I love this time of year. It's unique in so many ways. The weather is refreshing, the colors are gorgeous, and there's a lot of change going on.

For many, it's a special show season. I want to shout out to my friends who are going to their final weekend show, large year-end competition, futurity, or some other big show - and you feel excited. And I know, of course, you want to do well.

First, know that I'm rooting for you. You've worked hard, and this is your time. Go for it. Have fun. Focus. Give it all you've got and enjoy the experience.

One of my favorite things about showing (or anytime there's a performance involved and you want to do something extraordinary in front of others) is getting into that place of a calm, yet energized, and laser-focused state of mind and body. It feels like a total immersion into the best of you and your horse.

Nothing exists except you and your horse and doing your job.

One way to practice being in that place is to think through how you want it to go at the highest level possible for you and your horse. Write it down. Then visualize it. Practice being there so when you are at the show, it feels like you've been in that physical show arena - you've been on your horse - and both of you are doing your glorious thing - a million times already!

Here's my second thought for you: Going to the show is not the time to catch up on training. That part of preparation was done at home.

Treat yourself and your horse to the time it takes to easily get ready on show day - to show your best. You're not entering an arena to cover up your weaknesses.

If your horse has some spots that need help, plan how you will do that at the show, but for support, not trying to finish out your training.

It's not your job to be perfect in the show pen. It's about going for excellence. Staying focused and loose by thoroughly preparing on show day will help you do that.

So those are your exercises.

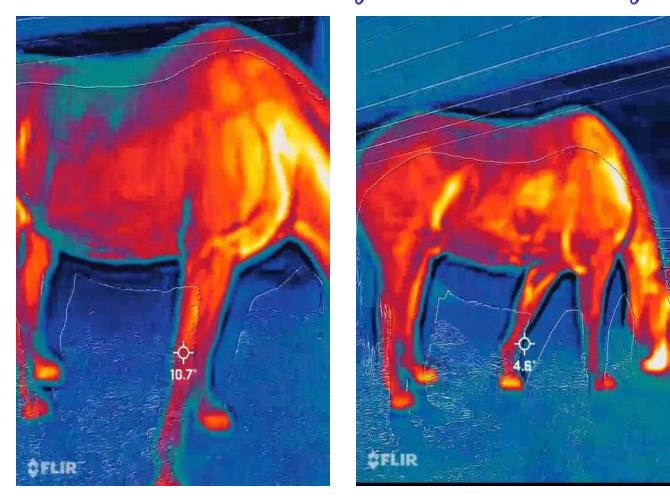

Rehearse over and over in your mind, who are you and your horse at your best? Get that picture and feel it in your mind and body. Don't let it go.

And then give yourself all the time you need to do what you need to do to get you and your horse ready to walk into the arena feeling on top of the world.

None of us have any control over results. They always take care of themselves.

Have a blast. How lucky we all are to have the opportunity to be with our horses and the people we love.

Baby it's cold outside! Is my horse warm enough?

Rene Capps: Dec 27 @ 1:00 pm: used with permission

Rome lives outside and has a covered shelter but doesn't live in the insulated barn in heavy blankets in a palace of shavings like the other three do.

Even though he is a woolly mammoth and clearly in absolutely NO danger of starvation I always worry that they are cold #Romanthedestroyer doesn't fit in blankets very well and they don't last long anyways!

This really shows how warm they stay and made me feel better. The first photo was right when I fed this morning and you can see along his top he is not as warm as the rest of his body, and then the next photo where he is completely warm everywhere was about 20 minutes after he had been eating. It was cool to see that when they start eating they really do generate a ton of body heat and it does warm them up. So giving an extra flake or two on the cold nights and keeping them well fed really works if you had any doubt!

One of the most important aspects of learning a new horse discipline is good training. These trainers will help get you off to a good start and/or keep you going & growing.

YOU CAN HELP FIND OUR 2022 SPONSORS!

As you know, we offer $499 added money classes each day in the Open, Non-Pro, 5K Novice and the 5K Nov NP, as well as $299 added in the 25K Nov and $200 added in the 50K Amateur and 25K NH NP.

However, we cannot do this without our generous sponsors.

We are extremely grateful to everyone who has sponsored us in the past, and we would love to continue growing our PCHA community!

We offer a variety of sponsorship packages providing visibility and access to our PCHA events and members. This can include banners hung up at shows, social media shout outs (we have over 1.7k followers on Facebook alone), class naming rights, show announcements, or logo displays on the website and in our monthly newsletters.

You can help PCHA grow our sponsor network by...

- Ω Reaching out to businesses you think would benefit from having their name in front of avid cutters, and horsemen.
- Ω Rounding up a few fellow members to jointly sponsor a class together.
- Ω Considering sponsorship of a class in honor of the memory of someone who inspired you or inspired some of our cutters throughout PCHA.

Check out the various sponsorship opportunities and sign up to become a sponsor @
